Do You Know Me?

Mattapoisett Historical Museum

By Marilou Newell

Their faces look out at us asking, "Who am I?" or "Do you know me?" hoping to be identified once and for all, for all time to come. The Mattapoisett Historical Museum is in possession of hundreds of photographs dating from the 1800s to as recently as the 1980s bearing images of people and places from Mattapoisett, but lacking identification. In their latest exhibit, the museum is asking the public to help solve the mystery each of the pictures represents. Each black and white or colorized image is a mini-mystery waiting to be solved.

And those images range from hauntingly

Above & on the Cover: Feestaardvarken (Party Aardvark) is a 30-meter long (98 feet) concrete sculpture located in the center of Arnhem in the Netherlands. The sculpture was commissioned by Burgers' Zoo to commemorate their 100th anniversary in 2013. It was created by Dutch artist Florentijn Hofman, who has many great works including a giant rubber duck that has been displayed around the world. His latest work, Hippopotames, will debut on September 14.

At The Wanderer, we have always had a great fondness for aardvarks and many of our readers know that we hide an aardvark in each edition. If you find the aardvark, this week on page 1, you can enter to earn great aardvark prizes. Find out more on our website www.wanderer.com and click on "I Found the Aardvark."

beautiful to playful to utilitarian in nature such as the photograph of the butcher shop replete with freshly chopped meats spread across a long counter. One face that I found simply perfect was that of a young woman from the late 1800s, perhaps a graduation or milestone birthday picture. Her face – so full of the blush of youth and promise now many years in the past – begs to have questions answered such as: Who was this woman? What became of her? Where does she lie today and for all eternity? And a similarly striking face is that of a young man from the early 1900s, whose earnest expression seems to say, "I will endeavor to live up to the expectations of my family..."

Two photographs depict a playful winter scene. In one, a tiny child pulls a sled through deep snow, while a companion picture shows that child and another playing together in the snow. Who are they and in whose yard are they playing? All that is known is that the pictures were taken in 1895.

Museum Curator Elizabeth Hutchison said, "... maybe people can help us out, you never know, someone may wander in and recognize someone in the pictures..." She said that it's so important for people to identify photographs by simply writing on the back of the picture in pencil the pertinent information such as the date, place of the photograph, and name(s) of any individual(s) in the picture. Hutchison said that on the museum's Facebook page these photographs and others not presently in the exhibit will be posted in the hope that someone can help identify them.

The exhibit will run through September 13. The public is encouraged to stop in and see for themselves if the faces calling out to be named speak to them.

Drama Club Starts Progress on Radio Show

ORR Update

By Emma Cadieux

The Old Rochester Drama Club is trying something new this winter. Instead of doing just any old play, they're doing a radio show! Don't worry, you will still get to see the actors, but they will be standing onstage, in costume, saying their lines directly into a microphone.

This will give insight into what used to happen in a radio studio before televisions were invented, when people made their own sound effects in-house and read right from the scripts.

Radio shows were most popular in the 1920s, '30s, '40s, and '50s, before televisions dominated the home-entertainment industry. Programs ranged anywhere from comedy, to drama, to horror, and everything in between. As you will notice when you watch the play, even commercials were woven into the program.

One freshman said that the play is focused a lot more on sounds and voices than actions. The casts' vocal performances will be much exaggerated, and the sound crew will actually be onstage making the sound effects.

He is right. Everyone on the sound crew, which usually only attends rehearsals once a week, will need to come after school on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday nights just like the onstage cast this year. This is definitely a major difference between this show and some of the previous shows that the club has performed in the past as its winter play, such as A Christmas Carol or Romeo and Juliet.

Auditions were held on the Monday of Labor Day and Tuesday, September 2, and the first read through of the script was Monday, September 8. At the rehearsal on Monday, Paul Sardinha, the seasoned director of the club, told the group that there was nothing to be afraid of.

"This isn't the most confusing play we've done," said Sardinha. He later revealed that it was Noises Off, a show they did in the '90s, that won the title of most confusing.

This year's production of It's A Wonderful Life: A Live Radio Show is set to take place the week before Thanksgiving.

The show stars Kyle Costa as the stage manager, Ian MacLellan as George Bailey, Holly Frink as Mary, and Will Lynch as Clarence, George's guardian angel.

Since the story is such a well-known and much-loved classic, it puts a lot of pressure on the drama club to make it the best it can be.

Sometimes the market reacts poorly to changes in the world. But just because the market reacts doesn't mean you should. The play is anticipated to be big, an important production and stepping-stone in the journey of the Old Rochester Drama Club.

"This play is going to be like nothing the drama club has ever done before," said sophomore Mary Roussel. "We're really breaking the fourth wall, and this play involves a lot of interaction with the audience. It's going to be interesting to see how it all plays out."

Proper execution is imperative with this show – the same, if not more, than other shows over the years.

"The problem with doing a well-known play is that if you mess up, everyone will notice," said Sardinha on Monday night. He continued to say that he knows everyone will do wonderfully, and that he knows they won't be messing up anyway.

Chairman Forced to Continue Hearings

Rochester Planning Board

By Jean Perry

Oops. Rochester Planning Board Chairman Arnold Johnson forgot that it was a primary election day when he scheduled the September 9 meeting, resulting in the continuation of three public hearings including the Colbea Enterprises, LLC hearing for a filling station/convenience store/coffee drive-thru on Cranberry Highway.

Continued again since August 23, the board has been anticipating the independent peer review of Colbea's own traffic study before proceeding further. Board members had questions about the results of Colbea's traffic study, so they voted to have Field Engineering review it, which was to be discussed that evening.

After holding a public meeting – not a public hearing – for another matter, board members alluded to the report of the peer review of Colbea's traffic study before adjourning.

"I'm glad we had an outside consultant to do that," said Planning Board member Susan Teal.

Other board members concurred with Teal, and Town Planner Mary Crain referred to the traffic situation near the proposed site as "kind of a mess."

"I'm anxious to hear back from Colbea," said Johnson. Some board members suggested that the Colbea traffic study used wrong data to determine the results.

"I'm not ready to vote," said Planning Board member Ben Bailey, so he was glad the hearing was continued and the peer review was completed.

During a follow-up interview, Crain explained that Colbea completed its traffic study back in July, which the Planning Board reviewed in August.

"It raised so many questions about the methodology of the report," said Crain, saying that was the reason behind the authorization of an independent review.

The public hearing for Colbea was continued until September 23.

The only matter that could legally be addressed that night was the public meeting for Grace R. Ashley, owner of a lot on Dr. Braley Road that straddles the Freetown/Rochester line and thus is situated in both towns.

Represented by John Romanelli of Romanelli Associates, Ashley sought an Approval Not Required application to divide her lot into two lots.

Romanelli described the application as "pretty straightforward," adding that he believes the plan meets the Rochester regulations for approval.

Johnson stated that the board had Town Counsel Blair Bailey review the proposal, which called for the division of the one lot into two "buildable lots." Bailey advised the board to remove the word "buildable" and let the language simply state "two lots."

Teal motioned for acceptance, and the application was approved.

The board had to continue the public hearing to discuss revisions to the Subdivision Rules and Regulations until September 23 as well, along with the public hearing for Betsy Downes of 264 Marion Road.

Downes, who resides on a recognized Scenic Highway, seeks to remove her driveway from one side of her property, relocate it to the other side, and cut down three trees as well – one because it is in the middle of the proposed driveway, and two others for safety reasons.

The board held off on discussing the definitions section of the Zoning Bylaw Amendments slated for the Special Town Meeting Warrant. Crain had hoped Rochester Building Commissioner Jim Buckles would attend the meeting to assist in answering any questions the board had about the definitions of some of the wording in the proposed bylaws, but he was unable to attend that evening.

The next Rochester Planning Board meeting is scheduled for September 23 at 7:00 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

housing project that has brought out issues which have been worrisome to the neighbors.

The hearing before the board this night was for an amended order of conditions that would allow the developers to move the remediation location slightly and to increase it by 245 square feet. Al Loomis of McKenzie Engineering represented the applicant J. M. Furtado, Inc. Loomis detailed the modifications that the conservation commission was instrumental in orchestrating. The commission during an earlier hearing had suggested that the applicant construct the mandatory environmental reclamation area at the newer location, resulting in fewer trees being removed and easier access.

Abutters were invited to air their questions and concerns after Loomis' presentation. All were concerned that the reclamation area would cause more water issues than presently being experienced and that placement of the wetland mitigation near a drainage culvert would overwhelm the system. However, both Chairman Peter Newton and member Bob Rogers explained the prudence of moving the wetland mitigation area as outlined and how it will ultimately benefit storm water management systems at the site.

Abutters were not convinced and countered that they were experiencing water problems now. Newton explained, "This is a natural storm water management system." He continued, "I'm a hydro-geologist ... this should help mitigate water. I'm not here to advocate on behalf of the applicant ... but this should help."

Rogers said, "This will provide slightly more storm water management and it's a common sense idea ... we think it's a good idea."

In spite of these explanations, the abutters pressed for more assurances that storm water run-off wouldn't become worse. Newton said, "This project before us tonight was suggested by us. This application was not for a review of the total storm water management system."

The application was approved with all the previous conditions in place along with notification to the commission agent when work commences.

The next Brandt Island Road project was a notice of intent by Ron Oliveira for the construction of a single-family dwelling that would require the filling in of low-lying depressions in the topography of the site to create a dry backyard space. Alan Ewing of Ewing Engineering represented the applicant. After review of a 2008 plan that had been approved by the conservation commission at that time and the airing of concerns by neighbors regarding the importation of soils to the site, the commission suggested that Ewing discuss with Oliveira the possibility of putting in a wetland reclamation area. The application was continued for two weeks.

A certificate of compliance was issued to Beverly Moore of 9 North Road.

The commission then had an informal discussion regarding the ongoing studies at the Appaloosa Lane development. Highway Superintendent Barry Denham said that he has been talking to Field Engineering, had not heard from G.A.F. Engineering, and that no conclusions have been reached regarding storm water management issues. He said he needs answers to the correct types of soils at the site and current water table levels, as well as an estimate of the amount of water the developers expect will be handled at the site and will be discharged into the town's sewer system in order to size drainage pipes correctly on River Road. Newton thanked Denham and asked him to please keep the commission informed.

Conservation Agent Elizabeth Leidhold gave her report that included a recent meeting with Blue Wave LLC, solar farm developers, regarding requests by the DEP that the storm water drainage system be modified at the Crystal Spring site. She also reported that Blue Wave has not sought clearance from Natural Heritage to date. Leidhold said that she anticipates the applicant will come forward with a request to amend their plans in the next couple of weeks. She added that NSTAR will most likely also be applying for permits to install three new telephone poles in the area of the project.

Leidhold said that the commission's office has received a number of complaints regarding NSTAR because of the severe clear cutting of trees. She had photographs from Tinkham Road and Crystal Spring Road that were startling. NSTAR has rights to clear 200-foot roads for access to equipment and power lines. She

Committee Deliberates Playground Fence

Mattapoissett School Committee

By Jean Perry

Mattapoissett School Committee members from both sides of the fence considered just that – a proposed enclosure around the playground area near the circular drive at Center School.

Facilities Director Gene Jones on September 8 presented his recommended plan for a fence to cordon off the early childhood playground area, an idea first suggested by School Committee member James Muse just before school broke for the summer.

Jones placed an orange temporary barrier at the proposed site of a permanent fence to give committee members a visual to consider while weighing in the pros and cons of creating a barrier for small children who might stray from recess into the parking area while teachers are not looking.

Jones said the temporary orange fencing is also a way to test the likelihood that the fence would act as a successful measure “to keep the little guys confined to the playground.”

Jones said the temporary fencing is 40 feet long,

LYME DISEASE IN DOGS

I have heard that all dogs in this area have Lyme disease. Is that true?

No, I would estimate that 15% of the dogs that we see have been exposed to Lyme Disease. We test all dogs for antibodies to Lyme disease when we test for heartworms.

What are the signs of Lyme disease in dogs?

There are 3 clinical presentations for Lyme disease. An acute arthritis with swollen wrist or ankle joints is the most common form of this illness. This form is rapidly responsive to antibiotics. The second form is an involvement of the kidney called Lyme Nephritis. Unless this is diagnosed fairly early in the course of the illness, it is frequently fatal. The most common sign is rapid weight loss. Lyme Nephritis is less responsive to treatment, so we aggressively treat dogs with positive Lyme tests to avoid this form of the disease. Some dogs that test positive for Lyme disease never show signs of illness. Unfortunately, we cannot predict which dogs will get sick and which ones won't. Tick control and Lyme vaccinations help prevent Lyme disease.

and he added an additional eight feet of fencing along the sides to increase safety by giving teachers more time to react should a child start to wander off, while maintaining an open appearance to the area.

"If we're gonna do this, then we should do it right," suggested Jones. He quoted the permanent black vinyl-coated fence at $3,700. He added that he personally thinks the orange temporary fence is achieving the desired results at this time.

The fence did not fly with Chairman Jim Higgins, who pointed out that Center School was already in compliance with regulations pertaining to the safety of the playground.

"In my opinion, I don't really see a need for a fence," said Higgins.

Committee member Jim Muse said, as has become his axiom before debating ideas with the chairman, that he "respectfully disagree[s]" with Higgins' opinion about the fence. Muse argued that children with special needs are at a higher risk for wandering off.

"I know that's not a big traffic area," said Muse, "but it only takes one time." Muse, who was on the School Building Committee, said he does not know why a fence to section off the playground area was not initially included in the design plan. He said he preferred to "err on the side of caution and student safety."

"As the parent of a child who has been known to run off when he wants to," stated School Committee member Henry Carter Hunt, he would prefer the playground be fenced off, "not just buffered."

Higgins, recognizing that there is sufficient support for the fence to move forward to the next step, agreed that the committee should continue the discussion next month, allowing time for Jones to present the proposed plan to early childhood educators at Center School for feedback before proceeding any further.

Superintendent Doug White suggested soliciting teachers for data as to whether or not the temporary fence is making an impact on keeping students in the playground.

"Is it doing its job, or not?" asked White.

Also discussed, a second grade school choice slot opened up this week after one student withdrew from the program, leaving committee members with the decision to either advertise the open slot, or simply allow a child on a waiting list for the first grade school choice to take the opening.

White said, with first grade class sizes at about 16 students per class, the move to allow the first-grader to fill the slot would not have a negative impact. He also suggested that it would be quicker to fill the slot by allowing a third first grade school choice student rather than advertise for a second second-grade slot. White asked the committee how it would like to proceed.

"We feel confident that we could manage the additional student," said White.

Center School and Old Hammondtown School Principal Rose Bowman said she welcomed a total of 508 students to the 2014-2015 school year and introduced the new Assistant Principal Kevin Tavares.

In other matters, the committee addressed vandalism at Center School that occurred over the summer, with Jones announcing that video surveillance footage helped identify the suspects and police have charged three minors with the crime.

White introduced new Business Administrator Patrick Spencer and new Director of Student Services Michael Nelson to committee members. White also announced that the Old Rochester Regional School District will not be filling the vacant position of technology director, choosing instead to restructure the Technology Department and allow tech specialists from all six schools to float freely around the district under the direction of White and Assistant Superintendent Elise Frangos.

Along with its effectiveness and manageability, White said the move also falls in line with the district's Strategic Plan of using resources more efficiently.

"This is something that potentially does that," said White.

Frangos told the committee that the new "Go Math" pre-K through sixth grade curriculum is now established within the district, and teachers have already completed their first professional development session pertaining to the curriculum. The committee chose the curriculum during the last school year in order to comply with the new Common Core State Standards.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett School Committee is scheduled for October 20 at 7:00 pm in the Center School cafeteria.

Representatives for the Sippican Lands Trust and Copicut Woods in Fall River asked the committee to approve a donation of 40 to 50 Atlantic white-cedar trees to Sippican School for sixth graders to retrieve and plant on the north side of the school grounds.

The evergreen coniferous baby trees will become a part of the science and social science curricula, with students learning about plant structure and also how this specific tree ties into local history.

Sixth grade students will take a field trip to Copicut Woods to claim and transport the trees back to the school and plant them the next day after a presentation from the SLT.

Committee member Christine Marcolini. "I really do."

The committee accepted the donation of trees with a unanimous vote.

Later in the meeting, Sippican School Principal Evelyn Rivet announced that the school would soon have its own Facebook page as a way to reach out to the community about news and special events taking place throughout the year.

Assisting with the task, Technology Integrationist Susan Wheeler said she would model the new Facebook page after ORR High School's and make weekly updates for those who "Like" the page.

"It's just another way to put ourselves out in the community," said Wheeler.

Also during the meeting, the committee approved the design and placement of the new YMCA Sippican Learning Center signs for the front of the building and the circular drive out front near the entrance.

Food Service Director Caitlin Meagher gave a brief update on the status of school lunch accounts. As overdue balances remained after the school year came to a close, Meagher said she was able to recover some of the money left over from active lunch accounts from past years, and Rivet used some funds from the principal's account to pay for some of the remaining debt. In total, the Sippican School closed the year with a negative balance of $382, a huge difference from where it was earlier in the year when it climbed into the thousands.

"We're hoping to keep better control over that this year," said Meagher.

In other matters, Facilities Director Eugene Jones requested funds totaling $2,600 to go toward the new "Telecenter U Page Module," an emergency alert system used to aid in communication within the school, as well as with emergency responders and others, should an emergency occur.

Jones said the school could be ordered into lockdown "with the push of a button" from any computer within the school, not just from the main office.

The total cost is $7,100, with $4,500 coming from leftover funds in Jones' budget. The vote to approve was unanimous.

Also during the meeting, Rivet handed committee members the updated school improvement plan, which now includes a timeline for the goals that the committee requested before the close of the last school year.

Later discussed, White told the committee that, with a little restructuring, the district could eliminate the need for a technology director to replace Ryan McGee who resigned from the position to take another one in another district.

"As we went through the process," said White, "...we felt that we could do it in a different way without getting an additional administrator."

Technology specialist consultants who were once assigned to specific districts will now float between all the Tri-Town school districts, and some staff members will take on additional technology hours as well.

"We needed more boots on the ground," said White, adding later that having the consultants move through the districts under the new organizational structure will add accountability.

"And an ability to really see where we're going," consolidating bus stops first came up.

New School Business Administrator Patrick Spencer told the committee that the district managed to reduce the number of school bus stops in Rochester from 320 to 257 without compromising safety. Spencer said consolidating six stops on Route 105 and 60-odd stops throughout the town has saved some time bussing students to and from school.

Hartley questioned the bus stop etiquette of some parents who she said she has personally witnessed in the past do not have their children ready and prepared when the bus pulls up, stops, and opens the door.

"It happens over and over," said Hartley, describing how she has seen parents wait in their car with their child, who then does not exit the vehicle until the bus stops and opens the door, leaving the bus driver, the students on board, and traffic waiting too long. She added that the time some parents take to hug their child, say goodbye, and chitchat with the bus driver is also adding to the time that students have to be on the bus each day.

"I always thought of making a little video," Hartley said of when she witnesses these occurrences.

There was a slight misunderstanding between Hartley and School Committee member Jennifer Kulak, who wondered if having the children rush across the street to hurry up onto the bus would jeopardize their safety. Hartley reassured Kulak that she was only referring to some stops on the same side of the road as the bus where some parents do not have their child ready by the road when the bus approaches.

Hartley wondered how the committee could get the word out to ask parents to cooperate by having their kids ready to board the bus in a timely manner, without taking up too much of everybody's time.

"[Because] that's abusive to everybody," said Hartley.

Also during the meeting, committee members approved new Director of Student Services Michael Nelson's funds request to cover the cost of an unforeseen out-of-district placement for one student with special needs. The "not to exceed $69,500" Special Education Stabilization Fund request will be placed as an article on the Special Fall Town Meeting Warrant for Town Meeting approval.

Spencer specified that the cost could be brought lower with changing circumstances, but the total could not exceed the requested $69,500.

In other matters, Rochester Memorial School Principal Derek Medeiros said he welcomed at total of 477 students on the first day of school, including 16 new students who either registered before the end of the school year or entered the district during the summer.

"Derek, it looks like grade two is creeping up in size," said School Committee member Tina Rood. Medeiros replied that this has been the trend, but for the most part, the new students are evenly spread across the Medeiros said the new math curriculum, "Go Math," has been delivered and unpacked with the assistance of some ORR Junior High School students, and teachers have already had their first professional development day pertaining to the new curriculum.

During the meeting, Superintendent Doug White introduced the committee to the new technology restructuring that will eliminate the need to keep the technology director position. Technology needs will now be spread out throughout all six schools in the district instead of each having their own consultant. Staff members throughout the ORR district will take on increased hours and technology roles that will be monitored and tracked more effectively by the central administrative office.

Spencer gave a brief update on the status of the closing of the fiscal year 2014 budget, prompting Hartley to comment, "That might be the briefest financial report in a long time."

The next meeting of the Rochester School Committee is scheduled for October 2 at 6:30 pm at the Rochester Town Hall.

Upperclassmen Start Tabor Book Club

Tabor Academy News

By Julia O'Rourke

As students have arrived on campus and classes have started, the annual back-to-school transition has begun. Sports, extra-curricular activities, and clubs are gearing up again, but with one new addition: The Book Club.

Last spring, the Tabor Track Team had six distance runners who trained together. Among these runners were Jenna Weyant ('15) and Madeleine Gregory ('16). One day, Kelli McSweeney, a track coach and English teacher at Tabor, brought up some reading suggestions. This led to multiple conversations regarding great books and authors. Conversations like these became a trend and eventually Weyant and Gregory started to think of the team as somewhat of a book club. After some discussion, the girls were inspired to actually make one.

Weyant and Gregory began making plans for a club and informed the Tabor community. The girls were excited to find that a variety of Tabor students and faculty love reading for pleasure and soon 25 people had signed up. Gregory reported that, "The club's members range from math teachers to book enthusiasts to readers looking for suggestions." Tabor's Head of School John Quirk has added his name to the list of members as well.

Over the summer, the club members read The Disreputable History of Frankie Landau-Banks to discuss at the first meeting of the year. Gwen McCain ('15) read the book this summer and found it "relevant because the setting is similar to Tabor." The club will meet on Sunday evenings when all boarders are on campus. The members plan to discuss books, movie adaptations, authors, and their general opinions about novels.

"It started as just a novel idea. Then the pages started turning and suddenly we had started a new chapter in our lives revolved around good people, good food, and most importantly good reads," Weyant says of the success of the idea.

Weyant's and Gregory's initiative is a great example of leadership at Tabor. They hope to foster a love of reading within the community without using school-assigned books. Gregory shared, "We're to remind ourselves, and everyone involved, how much fun reading can really be."

Fall Sports Off to a Promising Start

ORR Sports Update

By Michael Kassabian

Here is a look at the first week of results in scheduled games for all ORR athletic teams.

Football: The Old Rochester Regional football team has a lot of expectations to live up to this season. Last year, the Bulldogs took home their first conference championship since 2002 and made a strong playoff run in which they made it to the sectional finals. After a big hit due to graduation, there were many questions as to how well the team would perform this year. Some of those questions were answered this week, as the Bulldogs handily won their season-opener 47-14 against Lee/Lenox Memorial High School. Thanks to a strong performance by senior quarterback Alex Aruri (two rushing touchdowns, 2-3 passing for 73 yards), the Bulldogs made the nearly three-hour drive to Lee worth it by bringing home a victory. Three different ORR players scored a pair of touchdowns: Aruri; senior Ethan Lizotte; and junior Darien Dumond. Newcomer Lupe Martinez also had a strong varsity debut, catching a key 43-yard pass from Aruri to accelerate the Bulldog offense. The football team's next game is at Case High School on Saturday, September 13 at 1:00 pm.

Field Hockey: The Lady Bulldogs are also looking to have a strong season this year and try to win back the league title from SCC rival Apponequet. The girls got off to a good start with a 2-0 shutout over Bourne. Senior captains Darby Nolet and Devyn O'Connor scored a goal apiece to lead the Bulldog offense, with sophomore Hannah Guard recording an assist. Goalkeeper Mya Lunn had a strong game in goal, recording her first shutout of the season.

Boys' Soccer: The boys' soccer team kicked off their season in a great way, winning their opening two games by large margins. The Bulldogs easily defeated Case 5-0 in their season-opener, with four different Bulldogs scoring, showing the overall depth of the team. New student Tim Dix led the team with two goals, with Mason DaSilva, Evan Santos, and Alex Tavares each proving single scores. Goalies Melvin Vincent and James Dwyer split the game in net, helping to lead the ORR defense to their first shutout of the season. Later that week, the Bulldogs defeated Apponequet 7-3, with Dix and Alex Sousa scoring two goals apiece. Santos, Hunter Parker, and Antoine Geller also contributed goals for the undefeated Bulldogs.

Girls' Soccer: Like the boys' soccer team, the Lady Bulldogs also won their two opening games, allowing no goals from the opposition in either one. The girls began their quest for a conference championship with a 4-0 win over Case, with Amy Bichajian, Kaleigh Goulart, Bailey Truesdale, and Katelyn Bindas each scoring a goal. Against Apponequet, the girls won again 2-0, this time with Bichajian and Sarah Beaulieu providing the goals. The strongest asset for the Lady Bulldogs, however, may be their defense, led by the trio of Goalie Mikayla Demanche and center-backs Nicole Gifford and Arden Goguen. As shown in their opening games, the defense has been able to lock down the backfield and consistently stop any offensive pressure from opposing teams.

Golf: The ORR golf team had an early start to their season, winning their first game against Case in August. This week, the boys remained undefeated with a dominant win over Wareham, 131-15. Freshman Colin Fitzpatrick led the Bulldogs with a 40, with veterans Jackson Mitchell (41) and Zach Peterson (44) also playing well and rounding out the top three for ORR.

Volleyball: The Lady Bulldogs had a tough opening for their season, losing both of their opening games against SCC rivals. The girls were shut out 3-0 against Case, and likewise shutout against Apponequet 3-0. The girls do show some promise, however, as Zoe Smith, Hayley Marhsall, and Michaela Nunes played well in both games. Hopefully, the Lady Bulldogs will be able to figure out their early season troubles and correct them so they can have a shot at winning the SCC championship.

Dear Editor:

It seems NSTAR has hired a logger, not an arborist, to enforce its easement rights on residents abutting the power lines. I can only speak to Mattapoissett, but from sun up to sun down, loggers are stripping the land and loading truck after truck of wood that technically belongs to the property owners- all under the guise of clearing to protect the power lines. Several complaints to NSTAR have not been responded to after several days. A call to the Mattapoissett Conservation Office also states that a permit was granted for routine maintenance. I have lived here for more than seventeen years and have never seen clearing taken to this destructive level. The logging efforts have destroyed homeowners' privacy, devalued our property and stripped the wetlands. We are told by the logging company: "Be careful not to make waves, we can actually take more." Amazingly, it is mostly hardwood that seems to pose the most eminent danger to the power lines. This is complete devastation. In my backyard, I now have sweeping views of ugly powerlines that will appear even worse in winter when there is no foliage. My backyard was a sanctuary. It was never explained to us that the clearing would be this drastic. As people are complaining, the loggers keep cutting. I would like to see the surveying done to support NSTAR's drastic devastation of this area and what environmental impact this has caused our area. I saw a buck this morning on someone's front lawn; the loggers probably wiped out the homes of many wildlife. My only hope is to ask the media to investigate. These trees once cut are gone forever. We must do something! Your attention is sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,
Julie Lizotte, Mattapoissett

pass over the "little brown birds" that we can't identify at our feeders or on a walk. Jim Sweeney of the South Shore Bird Club, MassAudubon, and an all-around expert in the field will be speaking on sparrow identification.

Our club meets every 4th Thursday of the month at 7:00 pm in the Mattapoisett Public Library unless otherwise announced. Annual membership is $10. New members are always welcome. "We're not just bird-friendly, we're friendly birders."

Marion NHM After-school Programs

September 24: Tour of Sippican Harbor. We will once again be taking a look at Marion's lovely harbor with the Harbormaster's crew. Depending on the weather, we may be able to get to Bird Island and take a look at one of the few nesting locations of the roseate tern. Otherwise, we will enjoy looking for other bird species that are moving through our area. This program is limited to 12 and always very popular, so please get your registrations in early. Also, please bring a life jacket (which fits!) and plan to dress warmly and get a little wet. Pick up and drop off will be at the Marion Harbormaster's office.

October 15: Exploring the night sky. Using the museum's Starlab portable planetarium, our new presenter, Sidney Batchelder, will introduce us to the fall constellations. The planetarium is an inflatable, room-size teaching tool that is always a popular interactive astronomy program.

October 29: Looking at leaves. We will explore the ways that trees and other vegetation prepare for the winter months. We will also be collecting some examples of the vibrantly colored leaves of fall to press in our individual plant presses to take home.

Please go to www.marionmuseum.org to register for any of these programs.

Marion Cultural Council LCC Grants

The Marion Cultural Council is seeking funding proposals for community-oriented arts, humanities and science projects for the FY15 LCC cycle. Application forms for the grants are available online at www.mass-culture.org. Form templates are also available at the Elizabeth Taber Library, 8 Spring Street, Marion. Please visit the Massachusetts Cultural Council website for details regarding the submission of funding proposals. The deadline to submit grant applications is October 15.

Grants can support a variety of artistic projects and activities in and around Marion including exhibits, festivals, short-term artist residencies or performances in schools, workshops and lectures.

The Marion Cultural Council will also consider funding proposals from schools and youth groups to assist in subsidizing school-age children to attend cultural field trips.

The Marion Cultural Council is a part of a network of Local Cultural Councils (LCC) serving over 350 communities in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The LCC program is the largest grassroots cultural funding network in the nation, supporting thousands of community-based projects in the arts, sciences and humanities every year. The state legislature provides an annual appropriation to the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency, which then allocates funds to each community. This year, the Marion Cultural Council will distribute nearly $4,300 in grants.

team put in 100% effort and skated together, keeping the puck down the offensive end most of the game, and thus helping Ryker King earn his first shut-out for the season.

Pee Wees: The Gateway Pee Wee hockey season opener resulted in a 6-1 loss against Duxbury. Duxbury took an early three-goal lead in the first period until Jack Martins got Gateway on the board with their only goal of the game in the second period. Duxbury would go on to score three additional goals in the third. Gateway goalie, Ryker King, played a great game with some incredible stops, but the opposing team's pressure was consistent throughout the entire game and proved too much for Gateway. This was the first game of the season for Gateway with no place to go but up, and this team will do just that. The loss was tough, but so were the players. Gateway skated hard to the last seconds of the game and showed a lot of promise for the 2014-2015 season. There will be some work to do in order to come together as a team, but the foundation is there and some good solid team building is all that will be needed to be successful.

Bantams: The Gateway Youth Hockey Bantam team opened the season with a decisive 8-0 victory over Plymouth. Steven Strachan and Zachary Pateakos shared the shutout in net. Jackson St. Don, Jake Demoranville, and Jameson Woodward each had two goals. Zack Lovendale added a goal and an assist. Jared Westgate also chipped in with a goal. Playmakers Josh Smolinsky and Robert Ramsay each had three assists.

Middle School 1: The Middle School 1 Jr. Vikings opened up their 2014-15 season with a victory over Walpole 6-2 Friday night. The scoring started early with a goal off the first face-off of the game. Quirino doCanto won the face off and headed up the ice with line mates Tyler Lovendale and James L'Heureux. doCanto then passed over to L'Heureux to score 10 seconds into the game. The Vikings played great defense, led by Coleby Paling and Seth Tomasik, to hold Walpole scoreless for the first period. Peter Pimental started the second period scoring on assists from Vyper LaTulippe and Zack Lovendale. Pimental returned the favor and fed Lovendale for his first of two goals on the night. Walpole got on the board in the second when a wide open player snuck one by goaltender Alex DeMarco. doCanto then got his name in the goal-scorer column by tapping in a rebound off a shot from Tyler Lovendale. Walpole then added another goal making it 4-2. The final two goals were scored by the Lovendale brothers, making the final score 6-2. It was a good first game to the season, with well-played defense and great goaltending. DeMarco made a number of saves in his first game for the Middle School 1 team.

Middle School Game 2: The MS 1 Jr. Vikings played their second game on Sunday, squeaking out a 2-2 tie against the North Devils. The game was a defensive battle from the beginning. North got on the board early in the first period beating Alex DeMarco. DeMarco then put up a brick wall, stopping almost every other shot after that. The Vikings defense, Paling, Tomasik, Kaleb Riggle, Wylde Latulippe, played strong as well, keeping the Devils away from DeMarco. The Jr. Vikings put up a number of shots on the North goalie, but he was definitely up to task, pushing away everything in the first two periods. The third period started off as another tough defensive period, until the Jr. Vikings finally broke through. The line of Tyler Lovendale, doCanto, and L'Heureux got the offense going early in the third period. On an offensive zone face off, an errant pass found the stick of Lovendale, who quickly made a no-look backhand pass to a cutting doCanto. doCanto made the goalie miss and drew the puck back in, before stuffing in a backhand as he was going down to the ice. On the ensuing possession, all three came down the ice and combined for the second goal with a pass from doCanto to L'Heureux to Lovendale who put it in the net. Unfortunately, the lead was short lived as North quickly tied it up. The game then became defensive again, with neither team being able to score again. It was a great game to watch and well played by both teams.

He enjoyed spending time with his family, whether around the backyard pool or a holiday table and adored his grandchildren. He was known to state, "I have been incredibly fortunate in my life. I've enjoyed good health, a wonderful family, fine friends and countless enriching experiences." He was a gentle man, loved by many and will be remembered for his integrity, responsibility, humility and delightful sense of humor.

MOVIE REVIEW

Franktastic

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Frank. Starring Michael Fassbender and Maggie Gyllenhaal. Directed by Lenny Abrahamson. Running time: 95 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

The first time I heard of Frank Sidebottom, the cult-favorite British musician/comedian also known as Chris Sievey, it was in the pages of The Trouser Press Record Guide, where Ira Robbins waxed ecstatic about the man who performed Queen medleys, thought everything was "fantastic," and wore a large papier-mache head patterned after old Fleischer Brothers cartoons. You had to be in England during a particular era -- mostly the '80s -- to tune into Frank's dadaist charms, though he's pretty well represented on YouTube these days. Those interested in Frank's peripatetic career would do well not to rely on the new film Frank, a comedy-drama lightly based on Frank's early days with his Oh Blimey Big Band. British journalist Jon Ronson spent some time as Frank's keyboardist, and his experience led to a Guardian article, which was expanded into a short book, which in turn somewhat informed the movie.

There's no hint of Chris Sievey under the Frank mask here (nor does he get the surname Sidebottom). Indeed, we don't get a look at Frank (Michael Fassbender) until almost the end. In the meantime, he bellows muffled stream-of-consciousness doggerel into a mike while the Jon Ronson analogue (Domhnall Gleeson) plonks along on a Casio and the scowling Clara (Maggie Gyllenhaal) plays a theremin. Ronson has said that Sievey, who died in 2010, wouldn't have wanted a straight Frank biopic (there's a forthcoming documentary, Being Frank, to serve that purpose anyway), and the non-Sidebottom Frank we meet here -- a son not of Timperley but of Bluff, Kansas -- is perhaps not the Frank but a Frank, a symbol of persistent, lunging creativity. We're left with the oddly comforting notion that Frank is legion, that he appears wherever illogic is sorely needed to disturb the squares.

What isn't comforting -- and it is right that it not be so -- is the film's clear-eyed assessment of the creative urge as it relates to mental illness. Frank refuses to romanticize affronts to the brain; it takes its cue from those who had to live and work with such crazy diamonds as Syd Barrett, Daniel Johnston, and Captain Beefheart. People in Frank's band keep wandering off to end it all; it's as though Frank attracts unstable elements so that he can feel more sane in comparison. By the time Frank's band (with the jawbreaking name the Soronprfbbs) plays a Twitter-hyped gig at Austin's SXSW, young hipsters have gravitated to the various road dramas and to the instability on display; they appreciate Frank's music ironically, as a funky freakshow. I was reminded of the following that the schizophrenic underground musician Wesley Willis found, despite himself. Enjoying the art of the mentally ill on any level should be an occasion for checking one's own assumptions. Do we genuinely value the art, or are we taking a chic tour of the night side of human experience?

Frank is a finely grained ensemble piece, more sober than it needed to be, and more complexly engaging, but no less entertaining. Fassbender manages to express more through papier-mache than most actors can unencumbered, and the strange, sometimes atonal music sets the outsider tone. This isn't the Frank Sidebottom movie; it uses a similar likeness to probe the demons that can pursue -- and, yes, inspire -- artists, while sanely denying that the demons are necessary for the art. I'm sure Poe and Robin Williams would've opted for happiness over the darkness that undeniably added spice to their work, but who's to say they wouldn't have made better art, and had longer lives, without the darkness? The noncreative get their revenge on the creative by saying that the price of creation is madness. All this from a movie about a man with a big fake head. Fantastic.

Classic Film Friday

On Friday, September 12 at 7:00 pm, the public is invited to the Marion Music Hall (164 Front Street) for its Classic Film Friday Presentation: Double Indemnity. The event is co-sponsored by the Sippican Historical Society and the Marion Council on Aging, and is offered to the public, free of charge. The 1944 film noir is an urban crime drama in which Phyllis Dietrichson (Barbara Stanwyck) seduces insurance agent Walter Neff (Fred MacMurray) into murdering her husband to collect his accident policy. Complications arise when Neff's boss, Barton Keyes (Edward G. Robinson), a brilliant insurance investigator, grows suspicious of the death's true nature. Praised by many critics when first released, the film was nominated for seven Academy Awards, though it did not win any. Widely regarded as a classic, Double Indemnity is regarded as the iconic film noir, setting the standard for the films of that genre.

Running time for Double Indemnity is 107 minutes, and the film will be followed by a brief talk-back session by David Pierce. The Marion Music Hall is located at 164

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Changing your mind doesn't come easily for Lambs, who place a high value on commitment. But new facts could emerge that might persuade you to rethink your situation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) This is a good time to put that fine Bovine's eye for beauty to work in redecorating your home or workplace. And don't forget to indulge yourself in some personal time as well.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your sense of loyalty to someone who asks for your help is commendable. But make sure there are no information gaps that should be filled in before you move too far too quickly.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Don't let difficult people raise the Crab's ire levels this week. Avoid them if you can. If not, resist telling them off, even if you think they deserve it. Things improve by week's end.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your suspicions about a colleague might be on the mark. But you also could be misreading the signals you believe you're getting. Do some discreet checking before jumping to conclusions.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Take some time out from your many tasks and see if someone might be trying to reach out to you. You could be surprised to learn who it is and why you might want to reciprocate.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You still might want to do more investigating before taking on a new commitment. Later would not be the time to try to fill in any crucial gaps in what you need to know about it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A new opportunity should be carefully studied.

It might offer some of the things you've been looking for. Or it could contain new possibilities you never considered. Check it out.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You might have to work harder this week to get people to listen to what you have to say. But if you stay with it, you could start to get your message out to many by the week's end.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Although family matters again take up a big chunk of the Goat's time, the week also offers a chance to explore a new career move you'd been contemplating for a while.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Applying your practicality (what does it offer me?) and your creativity (how can I improve on it?) could provide sound reasons for seriously considering that new offer.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The single set will find that keeping their romantic aspirations on high gives Cupid a better target to aim at. Paired Pisces will find that this week helps reinforce their relationships.

BORN THIS WEEK: You believe in encouraging others to demand the best from themselves. You would be a fine sports coach, as well as an enlightened teacher.

Machacam Club

The Machacam Club will hold its October meeting on October 1 at the Legion Hall, 3 Depot Street. Social time is 5:30 pm, with dinner at 6:00pm.

Our special guest will be Seth Mendell, who will be departing the next day to return to Florida for the winter. As this year is the 100th anniversary of our Cape Cod Canal, Seth will talk about the early attempts to build a canal across the isthmus and the actual building in the early 1900s. Today's canal was built by the Army Corps of Engineers in the 1930s and is the widest sea-level canal in the world. With Seth's skills, the resulting presentation will certainly be most interesting.

Callers and members are asked to bear in mind the importance of call list accuracy, especially in view of the potential food cost increases. Caller lists should be done and reported no later than 9:00 am on September 29 by email to gpfnr@aol.com or by phone to Mike at 508-758-9311. Members with requests or changes can contact either no later than 9:00 am on September 30. As this is the first meeting, if any caller has a conflict with their list, please let Mike know.

enterprise, financial literacy, workforce readiness and entrepreneurship.

"JA programs fill a very important gap that often exists between what students are learning in school and how it applies to the real world," said Caroline Paradis, Junior Achievement President. "Volunteers don't need to have any previous experience in the classroom; in fact, most people don't when they first start volunteering with JA. They just need to be willing to share their experiences and help open a student's eyes to a world of new possibilities."

JA provides new volunteers with training and all program materials needed to teach the course. Opportunities are available at the elementary, middle and high school levels. Volunteers will give 45-60 minutes per week for 5-7 sessions, depending on the program. For more information, call Corrie Martin at 508-997-6536 ext. 12 or via email at Corrie.Martin@ja.org.

For more information about Junior Achievement or to sign up as a volunteer, visit <http://jasouthernma.org>.

Rochester's Newest Walking Trail Announced

The Town of Rochester, Wildlands Trust and Rochester Land Trust are proud to announce the opening of the Doggetts Brook Trail, which culminates a successful multi-year effort to link existing Town and conservation lands. The trail originates at the Dexter Lane ball fields and meanders by a reservoir, abandoned cranberry bogs, vernal pool, and through open field and woodlands bordering on Doggetts Brook. In late 2011, the Town purchased a 29-acre parcel of land from Deb Arney of Rochester with funding from the Rochester Land Trust and Buzzards Bay National Estuary Program. The Arney property had long been a conservation priority for the Town, Wildlands Trust and Rochester Land Trust because it was a key link to an assemblage of conservation properties. The groups worked together over the past two years to improve a loop trail that links over 100 acres of open space for public enjoyment. Thanks to a grant from the Makepeace Neighborhood Fund, the trailhead is marked by a map display case, and a kiosk and signage are installed at strategic points along the trail.

Please join us to celebrate the newest walking trail in Rochester at the grand opening on Saturday, September 13 at 1:00 pm at the Dexter Lane Recreational Area by the trailhead display case on the restroom building. After a short dedication, all are invited to walk the trail led by local naturalists. Refreshments will be

Bike for Clean Water

October is a great time to explore the beauty of Southeastern Massachusetts and the Cape – and what better way to experience the region's spectacular autumn scenery than on your bicycle? Register today for the Buzzards Bay Coalition's eighth annual Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride on Sunday, October 5, and you can celebrate the beauty of the Bay and our region while helping to protect it for future generations.

Each year, the Watershed Ride draws avid cyclists, casual riders, families, teams and clubs. Cyclists ages 12 and over are welcome. All funds raised from the Watershed Ride will support the Coalition's work to protect and restore clean water in and around Buzzards Bay.

Participants can choose between two picturesque routes: a 75-mile option that begins at Horseneck Beach in Westport or a 35-mile route that begins in Rochester. Both finish at Quissett Harbor in Woods Hole. Along the way, riders will enjoy scenic views of Southeastern Massachusetts' beaches, harbors, rivers, farms, and forests awash in the colors of fall. Riders will cycle through cities and towns all around the Buzzards Bay region, including Westport, Dartmouth, New Bedford, Fairhaven, Mattapoisett, Acushnet, Rochester, Wareham, Bourne and Falmouth.

With a lunch stop, water and snack stations along the course, and on-the-road repair technicians available at call, riders can feel confident that the course is safe and fully supported. At the finish line, the 150-plus riders will be greeted by a crowd of cheering supporters and a celebration with food, drinks and live music.

So pump up your tires, strap on your helmet, and get ready for the ride of your life! The Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride is just two months away. To learn more about the Watershed Ride, register as a rider or sign up to volunteer, visit www.savebuzzardsbay.org/watershedride.

FISH - Friends In Service Helping

Friends In Service Helping has been in operation in Mattapoisett since 1969. We provide rides to medical appointments for elderly residents who cannot drive anymore. We service Mattapoisett residents with transportation from their homes to Wareham, Marion, Fairhaven, New Bedford, and Dartmouth, as well as right here in Mattapoisett. Last year alone, we transported 301 residents!

Our town does not have public transportation. Our elderly residents are counting on FISH to get them to their medical appointments. We need more volunteer callers and drivers. We always work around your schedule when it is convenient for you! To find out more about your opportunity to be a FISH volunteer, please call FISH Coordinator Jacquie McGraw at 508-758-9278.

Marion Town Events Calendar

The Town of Marion, in conjunction with the Friends of the Marion Council on Aging, is pleased to make available an online Town Events calendar through the Town of Marion website, www.marionma.gov. Our goals for the Events calendar are to:

- Provide non-profit, Marion organizations the vehicle to list/post their events on the Town website; and
- Decrease scheduling conflicts among Marion organizations.

The Events calendar is a free service provided for and maintained by the Town of Marion. It is now available to Marion non-profit organizations and can be used to promote educational, social, cultural, athletic, or recreational events open to the general public. All calendar listings must follow the Town of Marion guidelines and be submitted using the online Event Notice form that can be obtained from the calendar editor, Michele Bissonnette, Assistant Town Clerk, mbissonnette@marionma.gov.
